

HAVE YOU SEEN THIS SNAKE?

PLEASE REPORT SIGHTINGS!

Eastern King Snakes are non-venomous, medium-sized (3-5 feet long), and commonly found in urban areas. They are top predators known to eat rodents and other snakes, including copperheads. They are typically black with yellow or white bands around the body.

The Urban Kings Project is a citizen science project based in the metro Atlanta region (Cobb, Cherokee, Forsyth, Fulton, Gwinnett, and DeKalb counties). We are trying to learn more about King Snakes in this area, and we need your help!

If you see a King Snake, please contact us immediately by calling Bryan Hudson or Samantha Kennett. We are trying to locate King Snakes (even those found deceased) to study their survival in urban environments. No snakes are harmed, killed, or relocated.

Please report your King Snake sightings!
